a score of all square.

FUNCTION OF FIRE PROTECTION.

The Denio Automatic system of fire protection automatically notifies the building owner and the fire department of the existence of a fire within a few seconds of its outbreak, and thus enables the owner and the fire department to bring extinguishing apparatus into action at the very moment when they can reasonably be expected to prove effective.—advertisment.

BUSINESS ITEMS

An experiment in oiling the roads in Kau district has been started.

One hundred acres of land on Ka-huku ranch are being cleared for planting in corn next year.

Consular Reports (Washington) of Nov. 9 quotes The Star-Bulletin's report of Honolulu building permits for October.

The Kona coffee crop is so large this year that great difficulty is being experienced in gathering it. Some of it is likely to be lost on account of the scarcity of pickers.

Prices started to rise on the New York stock exchange Saturday, but a break in some industrials checked the advance. Beet sugar stocks dropped two and a half points. Bonds were steady.

There was no change in the price of Centrifugals in New York on Saturday. The sale at 3.92 reported by private cable on Friday was probably for future delivery, as the Saturday press cable still quoted 4.05.

Closing prices for Hawaiian stocks in San Francisco on Saturday were as follows: Hawaiian Commercial, 34.25 asked; Hawaiian Sugar, 35 bid; Honokaa, 7 bid, 10 asked; Hutchinson, 16 bid, 16.50 asked; Kilauea, 12 bid; Panauhau, 18.25 bid; Union, 32 asked.

A Peruvian commission found on investigation of conditions, to devise a basis of operation of the employer's liability law, the minimum wage for the agricultural and mining industries in the coast region to be 49 cents, and for the manufacturing industries 58 cents; in the Sierra region, 20 cents for agricultural industry and 40 cents for mining and manufacturing industries; in the Montana region, 73 cents for all three.

With the Parker ranch people getting in a large amount of lumber for the erection of buildings at Kahuku, the Volcano Stables getting their lumber, machinery, etc., on the ground preparatory to starting operations on the lava flow road, and the water pipe being transported along the lines of the two new water systems, business is certainly on the move in Waiohinu, says the Hilo Tribune.

Sugar is the most important agricultural product of Peru. Her exports of sugar in 1910 were 133,809 short tons valued at $6,731,075, and in 1911 136,699 short tons valued at $7,092,- 492. The plantations in the vicinity of Lima furnish 20,000 tons of white (washed) sugar and about 10,000 tons of "chancaca" annually. Large quantities of rum and alcohol are produced as by-products. There are no sugar refineries in the country.

According to the Hilo Tribune, there was no opposition at the meeting of the Hilo Telephone Company to the proposal of the Mutual Telephone Company of Honolulu that the stockholders of the Hilo company exchange their shares for stock in the Mutual, thus giving the Mutual full control of the local telephone. There were 1374 shares represented at the meeting out of the total of 1800 shares in the corporation. The Star-Bulletin last week stated that the Mutual had received an offer of the control of the Hilo company.

To prevent the stoppage of East Indian immigration by the Indian government, the planters' association of Fiji voted in favor of the repeal of the penal clause in labor contracts.
Word had been received that the clause was going to be published in India, and the opinion of the Fiji immigration officer in India was quoted, "that on the day the penal clause appeared on the indentures, Indian emigration would cease instantly, automatically and altogether." Notification was received from the colonial secretary that the recruiting of Indians in Fiji for the Solomon islands would not be permitted.
